Conservatives Stand Behind Canada Ports

Will Limit British Preference to Goods Entering Dominion Direct, Mr. Meighen Declares

Fair Play to All Policy Emphasized

Products of Maritimes and West Entitled to Preferential Treatment When Markets Are Far Distant

SAINT JOHN, Sept. 23.—That he would limit the application of the British preference to goods coming through Canadian ports, was one of the outstanding declarations made here tonight by Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, in the final speech of his Maritime Provinces campaign. Emphatically he asserted his belief that Canadian trade should move through Canadian ports and that development of the port of Saint John, as the great inter port of Canada, must be continued.

Again he stated that the Conservative party stood pledged to a policy of assistance to the Maritime Provinces to the end that their basic products might move to the markets of Ontario and Quebec.

Aid for West
Such assistance must also be given to those Western products which were separated by great distances from the central markets.

The problem of Maritime rights was a difficult one, Mr. Meighen said, and he did not pretend that it could be solved at once. But he felt that the main lines which should be followed in its solution might be indicated. He admitted that the more populous provinces derived most benefit from a protective tariff. Therefore, as the basis of Maritime problems was transportation, he felt that special concessions should be given to the Maritimes, as well as to the West, in order to bind the outlying provinces more closely to the central provinces.

Freight Rates Aid
He would take those basic products from the Maritimes and the West which could be used in central provinces and strike from each freight bill for these products a proportion of the transportation cost. This proportion would be borne by the Dominion. To this policy the Conservative party was committed.

"The steel industry of Canada is staggering and emaciated," Mr. Meighen declared in stating that the finance policy of the Government was fatal to the industrial life of the Dominion.

Louis Riel's Secretary Passes Away in Quebec

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—Charles L. Champagne, seventy-six, private secretary to Louis Riel during the North-West Rebellion in 1870, and for the last thirty-five years a resident of Montreal East, died here today.

Beautiful Run-Runner Remanded

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Miss Gloria de Casarea, London's "best runner," made her appearance in the Marlborough Street police court today in connection with the charge of obtaining goods under false pretences brought against her last week by a large Oxford Street store. She was remanded for two weeks to enable her counsel to prepare his case.

Premier Oliver Rushes to Defence of Mr. Manson's Stool Pigeons

Necessary Thing, Though Disagreeable, Tells Union of B.C. Municipalities Delegates at Civic Banquet—Admits Education System Proved Unsatisfactory

PREMIER Oliver sprang to the defence of stool pigeons at last night's civic banquet to delegates to the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, held at the Crystal Garden.

They were a necessary thing, the Premier protested, although he admitted that they were extremely disagreeable to himself and to other members of the Government.

Their use, the Premier intimated, was a consequence of the Government's suspicion that some municipalities would not enforce the provisions of the Liquor Control Act.

The Prohibition Act, said the Premier, had been designed to come into force in the Fall of 1917. This Act had stipulated that every policeman of the Province should endeavor to enforce its provisions. The result had been disgraceful. The Government had been reproached, but part of the fault had lain with the municipalities.

The Government had introduced the Liquor Control Act, knowing that the people would hold it responsible for the enforcement of the law.

To Compensate Municipalities
The Act had been framed to compensate municipalities for the loss of revenue from liquor licences, the Premier said.

Tired of Life, Man Blows Self to Bits

BREMERTON, Wash., Sept. 23.—Leaving a note which said: "I am tired of life and will soon know more about it hereafter than I know now," Thomas H. V. Richards, forty-five, wealthy bachelor farmer, blew himself to bits with a box of blasting powder on his farm six miles west of here early today.

Attached to the note was another note willing Richards' property, consisting of his eighty-acre farm near here, and a small house, to his son, Orchard, and 300 acres of land in California, to three nieces.

Premier to Come West Next Week

Mr. King to Open Prairie Tour Monday at Neepawa—To Visit Coast Later

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Premier W. L. Mackenzie King will open his western political campaign at Neepawa, Man., on Monday evening next. It was announced tonight by Senator Andrew Haydon, who is making arrangements for the Prime Minister's itinerary in the Western provinces.

Premier King is also definitely scheduled to speak in Regina on Tuesday evening, September 29, and in Moose Jaw on Wednesday, September 30.

The Prime Minister, Senator Haydon stated, would also speak at Calgary or Lethbridge or possibly at both places, and will then proceed to the Pacific Coast. Further details of Premier King's Western itinerary are expected to be available within the next day or two.

Fire Chiefs Inaugurate Life Saving Campaign

SHASTLE, Sept. 23.—The saving of 5,000 lives and reduction of $1,000,000 of the national property loss from fire is to be urged in a campaign inaugurated here today at a convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs.

The fire chiefs advocated appointment of a committee to draft a uniform law for all states, and the use of gasoline stoves or oil stoves unless they are approved by a safety organization.

Municipal Official Sentenced for Theft

RASKATON, Sept. 23.—H. A. McInnes, of Langham, for many years secretary-treasurer of the rural municipality of Park, was today sentenced to eighteen months in jail with hard labor for theft of some $1,000 from the municipality, and six months' current sentence for failing to make entries of money he received in the municipality books.

Railway Will Aid Migration To Dominion

President Beatty Says Government and Railways Will Co-operate to Bring Settlers to Canada

Three Directors Arrive in City

All Will Go Up Island Today to See Industrial Progress Along Esquimalt & Nanaimo Line

THE Government of Canada and the two leading railway companies will stimulate immigration by a new agreement, whereby they become partners in the collection, transportation, and distribution of immigrants. This has been done with a view to facilitating the movement, and also doing away with technical obstacles to the admission of new people existing under the former system.

This statement was made by Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who arrived here yesterday afternoon with a party of directors on a tour of inspection of the Canadian Pacific Railway system.

The Crystal Garden was visited, the president met leading Victoria businessmen in the evening, and today planned to leave by special train on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway to see some of the developments of the island since he last had an opportunity of seeing the industrial progress of Vancouver Island.

Mr. Beatty arrived in the city on board the Victoria, Kailash, thus affording him an opportunity of seeing the handsome sister ships of the Continued on Page 5

Two Hunters Shot In Error for Deer

One Duncan Boy in Hospital Painfully But Not Dangerously Wounded

DUNCAN, Sept. 23.—At 6 o'clock this morning, four Duncan youths, aged about seventeen, went out shooting on Richards Mountain, and two hours later they were back in town with a deer, and the lower portion of his body.

Harold Norcross, the more seriously injured of the two, is in the Duncan Hospital, painfully but not dangerously wounded. He was hit in the face, arm, chest, and the lower portion of his body. One pellet carried away a front tooth, while another passed through the side of his face. Ronald Douglas had a single shot extracted from his forearm.

The shooting was done by a third member of the party, who mistook young Norcross for a deer, as he scrambled over a log. Fortunately the shot was fired from a distance of about seventy yards, otherwise the damage inflicted would probably have been much greater.

Executors Allege Breach of Contract

Representatives of Late Mr. T. Lubbe Want Share of Money for Waterworks

Executors of the will of the late Mr. T. Lubbe announce their intention through their solicitor, Mr. E. E. Wilson, to take proceedings in the Supreme Court against the Esquimalt Waterworks Company for an injunction to halt the sale of the property to the City of Victoria, and alternatively for damages for breach of contract. Mr. Wilson has been called unexpectedly to California, but immediately on his return he will proceed against the company.

On behalf of the beneficiaries of the estate of Mr. Lubbe, who was most active organizer and constructor for the Waterworks Company until the end of his life, and took an active share in the completion of the present Goldstream works, it is alleged that Mr. Lubbe had an undertaking to receive the sum of $100,000 for his share in the work carried out. Of that amount $50,000 was to be paid down, and the balance on terms, but the contract, so the executors informed, stipulated that the amounts should be remitted conditional to the sale of the property to the city. At the time of the alleged contract, Mr. Lubbe is believed to have fully expected early sale, and therefore prompt liquidation of the claim. However, the citizens rejected the plan provided in the 1909 Act, and since that time payments of $5,000 each have been made. Therefore the sum of $90,000 is now claimed.

The representatives of Mr. Lubbe maintain that had the terms of the expropriation been made with the city on the lines they had a right to expect, the purchase price would have been sufficient to pay them. The actual basis of payment prevents, it is said, this alleged contract being honored, an assertion which they believe the courts will sustain in disposing of the assets of Esquimalt Company in accordance with the city's settlement with the Waterworks Company.

QUEBEC, Sept. 23.—Hon. W. F. Clubb, Minister of Public Works, Manitoba, was elected president of the Canadian Good Roads Association, at the second session of the three-day convention of the Association here today.

Other officers are: Honorary past president, Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Roads, Quebec; honorary president, Hon. R. J. Veniot, first vice-president, Hon. C. H. Henry, Minister of Public Works, Ontario; second vice-president, Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia; secretary-treasurer, G. A. McNamee, Montreal.

Canadian Pacific Liner Rudderless on Atlantic, Taken in Tow for Port

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 23.—The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France, bound from Quebec to Southampton, developed rudder trouble while proceeding up the English Channel and is being towed to this port. The liner wireless and she had lost her rudder in a gale. A tug picked up the liner thirty miles south of St. Catharines' lights, which is about twenty-five miles south of Southampton.

Dame Fortune Beams on Turf Man; Needs Valise to Carry Winnings

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Captain Jefferson Davis, noted British turf man, had to borrow a valise to bring back to Paris his winnings amounting to more than one million francs, when his three-year-old Ptolemy won the gold cup race at the Malbone Lanes course. The big black son of a year's English Derby, came through with a victory which no one except those connected with his stable expected.

As a result he was neglected in the betting and paid six to one. Capt. Davis wagered 200,000 francs and his winnings were paid him mostly in small bills.

Prosperity Returns to Canada Under Mackenzie King Administration—Freight Rates Is Issue

Liberals on Middle Course

Nothing has occurred in Canada since the defeat of the Conservative Government in 1921 that could cause the sentiment of the people to change so radically that the Government of Mr. Mackenzie King could be endangered. In 1925, according to a statement made last night by Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works in the Liberal Cabinet, during the course of his address at the banquet given in his honor by Liberals of Victoria at the Chamber of Commerce quarters.

The Mackenzie King Government, he said, finding itself the largest of three groups, one led by Mr. Meighen composed of ultra-Conservatives, and the other, led by Mr. Meighen, composed of Liberals, had declared, followed a sane and middle course between the two extremes.

During the four years of Liberal rule, the Conservative leader, in season and out of season, had preached blue ruin from one end of the country to the other, and in every possible way had tried to detract from the credit of the Government.

"Mr. Meighen will tell you," said Dr. King, "that he is for higher prices. Continued on Page 5

Ireland Creates Stir at Geneva

Britain's Opposition to Compulsory Arbitration Her Own View Alone, Says Irish

GENEVA, Sept. 23.—Ireland caused a stir in the Judicial committee of the League of Nations assembly today when Kev O'Higgins declared that Ireland's views on compulsory arbitration were not yet formulated and that Sir Cecil Hurst's opposition thereto represented Great Britain's view alone.

Mr. O'Higgins said the Irish Free State was sympathetic toward the idea of arbitration, but that "in view of her special circumstances" she wished to give the matter "deeper study."

Sir George Graham said that Sir Cecil had no intention of departing from the existing policy in vital matters "without obtaining concurrence from the other governments of the Empire."

Sir Joseph Cook, of Australia, caustically closed the incident by remarking that when Sir Cecil referred to the necessity for the British Empire's diplomatic unity on important international affairs, "he expressed my view quite correctly."

Four Months Bring 40,606 Immigrants

British Form Half of Newcomers—Twelve Thousand Canadians Come Home

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Immigration to Canada for the first four months of the fiscal year ended July 31, amounted to 44,465, of which 19,237 were British, 6,874 from the United States, and 14,357 from other countries. In the same period 12,170 Canadians who had been absent in the United States, six months or longer, returned to Canada with the intention of making their permanent home in this country.

The total number of Canadians who have returned from the United States since April 1, 1924, after settling in that country six months and longer, and now with the intention of remaining permanently in Canada, is 58,945.

Spanish Shock Troops Storm Sacred Heights Of Fanatical Riffians

Hills Behind Bay of Alhucemas Captured by Madrid Soldiers—Invaders Drive Forward Foot by Foot Into Native Territory—All Objectives Gained, Spain's Commanding Officers Claim

Spaniards Draw Within Four Miles Of Headquarters of Moorish Chief

MADRID, Sept. 23.—Spanish shock troops today stormed the heights of Morro Viejo, Cuervos de Xauen and Malmussi, all situated on the Bay of Alhucemas. They are now about six kilometers (four miles) from Ajdir, Abd-el-Krim's headquarters.

Shortage of Bread Precipitates Riot in Persian Capital

TEHRAN, Persia, Sept. 23.—Owing to a shortage of bread, an excited mob closed the market today, then attacked the Parliament building, smashing doors and windows and demolishing the furniture. Some of the members of Parliament were injured in trying to escape.

The efforts of the military governor to pacify the crowds failed, and the demonstrations continued.

Advance Pace by Pace
Pace by pace the Spanish forces, among them the foreign legion, wrested Moorish territory to a depth of about two kilometers (a mile and a third) from the rebels who defended their sacred soil with fanatical zeal against the Spaniards.

"All objectives have been gained," reported Admiral Marquis de Magaz, acting president of the military directorate.

Native Troops Suffer
General Jordana, another member of that body, said: "The operations are by no means concluded because after we have captured the mountains we must fortify them and attend to many other matters to insure the safety of our troops."

General Vallés, however, asserted that the Spanish casualties were slight, the majority being native troops.

Clean Sweep Predicted in Baby Province

Conservatives Confident of Capturing All Four Federal Seats in Prince Edward Island

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Sept. 23.—As the Federal election day presents itself now, following visits to the "baby province of the Dominion" by Premier King and Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, there should be a solid four from Prince Edward Island supporting Mr. Meighen in Parliament after October 30.

While the Conservatives are jubilant and in high spirits, expecting to carry all four seats, their opponents are depressed and in some straits, as the province has fared very badly at the hands of the Government during the past four years. Internal strife has developed in the Liberal fold, due to what is considered the unfair distribution of political honors and emoluments, and altogether the Liberal machine is in a bad way.

Judicious Oiling Necessary
Unless some judicious oiling and balm be applied as the result of Mr. King's visit, the wounds are likely to be intensified during the campaign with disastrous results to the Liberal cause.

In Prince County the Liberals have nominated A. E. Maclean, the former member for the riding, but as the Liberals also constitute a large part of the electorate, are dissatisfied because their nominee for the Senatorial election was ignored, his chances for election are not bright.

The Conservatives are pretty certain of the seat in Kings County, where the raising of J. J. Hughes to the Senate has created a vacancy, and the Liberals are as yet without a successor candidate. The Conservatives count upon an easy victory with Hon. J. A. Macdonald, provincial Minister of Public Works, contesting the seat in their behalf.

Liberals in Confusion
Queens County elects two members, and the prospects are for a walk-over for the Conservatives. The Liberals are all at sixes and sevens and are even dropping Mr. A. McKinnon, former member, at their convention, and electing Mr. R. H. Jenkins, "a man without spots," as his nominee.

Mr. Jenkins has not taken an active part in politics hitherto, and during the last local Conservative regime was looked upon as a Conservative.

French Mission Arrives in U.S.

Debt Negotiations Begin Tomorrow—M. Caillaux Confident of Settlement

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 23.—Joseph Caillaux, the French Minister of Finance, and his ten colleagues arrived in the capital today, ready to open negotiations for a funding settlement of their nation's four billion dollar debt to the United States.

In the chill, damp atmosphere of an early autumn afternoon, the Frenchmen stepped from their private car in which they traveled from New York, and immediately set about preliminaries to the formal negotiations into which they will launch at 1 p.m. tomorrow at their first meeting with the American debt commission.

The visitors apparently expect the negotiations to be brief. They have made arrangements to sail for home October 2, and M. Caillaux declared he saw nothing in the way of a change in the calculations. All the delegates were confident of an early settlement that would be satisfactory to both countries.

Hindu Cratify Ascetic's Wish For Burial Alive

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Evening News correspondent at Allahabad, British India, chronicles a peculiar case in which two Hindus were charged with aiding a Hindu ascetic to commit suicide by refilling a grave into which he had voluntarily descended.

The accused men said they were disciples of the ascetic and were bound to obey his instructions.

It was pleaded that the "holy man" had not committed suicide but merely performed the religious rite of "samadhi"—that of being buried alive while in a state of suspended animation.

Execute Robbers in Batches of Twelve

Thousands at Shanghai Witness First of 180 Hangings of Armed Bandits

SHANGHAI, Sept. 23.—Twelve convicted armed Chinese robbers were executed publicly today after a parade of the condemned through Nanking Road. The parade and the hangings were witnessed by thousands.

The executions will continue tomorrow at a rate of six daily until 180 condemned men now in jail here have been executed in accordance with death sentences handed down by mixed courts.

The sentences were not carried out previously because no Chinese authority has been functioning in Shanghai, but the appointment of Shing Shien, Manchurian commander, as ruler of the Shanghai area, has made possible the resumption of hangings. The executions today took place at the Lungsha Arsenal.

Cars Collide in Fog at Seattle

Eighteen Persons Are Injured in End-On Smash on Interurban Line

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Eighteen persons were hurt today seriously when two cars collided head-on in fog today near Kent, twenty miles south of here, on the Tacoma-Seattle interurban railway.

The most severely injured was an employee of the Puget Sound Traction, Light and Power Company, which operates the railway, and an unidentified man. These were taken to a hospital in Auburn, seven miles beyond Kent from here.

One of the colliding cars was running alone, while the other headed a Tacoma-bound train of two cars. The striking cars partly telescoped. In the northbound car were forty-seven passengers and on the southbound train twelve. The lone car was nearly stopped, but the train was moving twenty-five miles an hour, said witnesses, at the contact.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Chronic trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused many times in the by chronic acid stomach," says a well-known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach as an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis, accompanied by dangerous stomach stores. Don't dose an acid stomach with pain or artificial diet. It takes up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might, and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bile salts, which can be obtained from any reliable druggist in solid, reliable, safe and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive. (Adv.)

Quebec Labor Asks Tariff on Ships

Catholic Conference Asks for Imposition on Foreign and Re-bate on British Built

THREE RIVERS, Que., Sept. 23.—A tariff of forty per cent on ships of foreign build plying in the Canadian coastal trade, with a reduction of twenty per cent for such vessels that are of English construction, was urged in a resolution passed unanimously by the Catholic Labor Confederation now meeting here in its fourth annual congress. The underlying principle was that such a tariff would increase the effect in decreasing the unemployment in shipyards of Canada. Old age pensions, the forty-eight-hour week in the textile industry, and the Workmen's Compensation Act were all discussed by the delegates, although in the first named, no recommendation was made, the feeling of the congress being that the rest of the provinces were not ready to undertake the matter.

Leverhulme's Sale Causes Squabble

Shipment of Art Treasures to United States for Disposal Raises Comment

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A special ship is to be chartered to carry the art treasures of the late Lord Leverhulme to the United States, where they are to be sold at auction. In making this statement, The Westminster Gazette says the chartering of the vessel is due partly to the vastness of the collection and partly because it will be cheaper than shipping by the ordinary liner.

Laments voiced yesterday over the disposal of the treasures in the United States, "because America has the money, and there is no more to be said," have drawn counterblasts from some of the morning newspapers. These commentators recall the phenomenal prices obtained at the recent sale of Saxe's pictures, which they say refute the statements of London's lost reputation as an art centre and show that plenty of money is available for what is worth buying.

The suggestion is advanced that the United States buyers were less concerned with the real worth of the objects of art than the British.

The Post delicately hints that Lord Leverhulme's collection "would not be likely to bring much here."

The amount of money involved in the deal is not a close secret, but estimates here put it at anything between £200,000 and £300,000.

Great Increase in Mental Defectives

Hon. Wm. Sloan Stresses Alarming Growth of Insanity in Province

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—The question of dealing with the increased number of mental defectives in British Columbia will be brought before the coming session of the Legislature by Hon. William Sloan, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Mines. In an address to the Board of Trade luncheon here today, Mr. Sloan intimated he would ask the appointment of a committee to investigate and study conditions of today.

The situation was a serious one, Mr. Sloan declared, and was largely due to the neglect of authorities to take preventive measures. At Esquimalt there are 1,427 patients this year, for which an appropriation of $190,000 had to be made. Since 1884 the population of the Province has increased seven and one-half times, while mental defectives show an increase of twenty-eight times.

Speaking of the output of minerals in British Columbia, he declared it would reach a total of about $60,000,000 this year, as compared with last year's $49,000,000. The 1925 output will be a record one in the history of the Province.

It is stated that the operator at the station concerned, fearing the impending crash, sent a yard engine in pursuit of the train which was in danger, but it could not catch it in time to prevent the smash.

Mr. Lloyd George Makes Sharp Reply to Journal

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Mr. Lloyd George has sent a sharp letter to The Morning Post in answer to that paper's comment on his speech at Esher recently, when he outlined the new Liberal land policy. The Post twitted Mr. Lloyd George with condemning those who had deprived agricultural laborers of their rights over the common-land while he himself was the owner of an estate in Surrey, of which more than one-half at one time had been common land.

First Divorce Granted Under New Legislation

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Invoking recently enacted Federal legislation, Madeline McKay was successful in obtaining from Mr. Justice Murphy an absolute decree dissolving her marriage here, October 3, 1921, to Robert McKay.

It was the first occasion that the divorce act, which became law June 27 last when passed by Parliament, has been cited in a divorce case here. The statute placed the spouses on an equal footing in so far as grounds for divorce are concerned in provinces where divorces are granted.

Chinese Want To Stay Here

Legal Fight Waged by Girls Who Claim They Are Natives of Canada

Claiming Canadian birth, a fight on behalf of two Chinese girls for admission to this country opened in the Supreme Court Chambers yesterday. The girls who claim this country as their place of birth seek to take up their residence again in the Dominion after what they claim was a visit to China.

Deportation faces the girls on the order of Immigration Officer E. Reid, unless the application on their behalf is successful. Lee Chow, one of the girls, claims Victoria city as her native city, while Young Suet Hing says she was born in Toronto.

Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., who represents the crown, wished to proceed with the case yesterday morning, but Mr. Justice Horden, who appears with Mr. T. M. Miller for the girls, asked time to examine the documents only then produced. This was allowed by Mr. Justice Gregory, who fixed Friday for the date of hearing.

CIVILIZED FOODS DEATH TO SAVAGES

Tuberculosis, cancer, flu, pneumonia and most of our diseases are unknown among savages. The reason is that they live upon natural foods. When they meet civilization and begin to live upon civilized man's white flour and refined "ghost cereals" they die off quickly with civilization's diseases, but not if they stick to their own natural foods. Thus it is shown that it is civilized man's foods that cause his omnipresent diseases.

And besides food science has proved that the most fatal of civilized man's food practices is the refining out of his chief foodstuffs, the grains, their body-building mineral salts, fats and vitamins.

Dr. Robert G. Jackson, of Toronto, editor of The Dietetic Age, of New York, circulating among physicians, has taught this for years. To counteract the effect of these refined foods, Dr. Jackson devised Roman Meal, a natural whole grain food, made from whole wheat, whole rye, flax and bran, rich in all those elements refined out of white flour and "ghost cereals." Roman Meal eaten several times each week, in any of the delightful ways in which it may be cooked, will compensate the deficiencies of white flour, etc., and promote good health. It prevents indigestion and positively relieves constipation. Beef has 532 food units to the pound, Roman Meal has 1,400. Especially valuable for nursing and expectant mothers and children from the tenth month. At grocers. (Adv.)

ONLY during the relaxation of sleep, can Nature rebuild the brain and body tissues which have been used up in the activities of the day. Often, unfortunately, when we go to bed, our nerves stay up; and sleep does us little good.

"Ovaltine" taken at night soothes and restores the nerves and promotes restful sleep.

"Ovaltine" is the greatest health-giving beverage in the world—abundantly rich in the vitalizing and energizing elements from Nature's tonic foods—ripe barley malt, rich creamy milk, fresh eggs, and flavoured with cocoa. One cup of this delicious beverage contains more nourishment than 12 cups of beef tea or 3 eggs.

Take a cup of "Ovaltine" every night before retiring, and see how refreshed and invigorated you will feel next morning.

Union of B.C. Municipalities Gives Decisions

Resolutions From Municipalities Covering Wide Range of Subjects Dealt With by Convention

"Hospitals" Are Defined

The subjects of city managers and that of the relation of hospitals to the cities were yesterday recommended by the resolutions committee of the Union of B.C. Municipalities to be passed on to the executive for consideration. A few other proposals were considered to be beyond the scope of the organization.

One of these, introduced by Reeve Martyn, favored the construction by the Government of another bridge across the Fraser River, which the committee promptly classified as being outside the scope of the union and this attitude was endorsed by the convention.

Another resolution from New Westminster, favoring the completion of the paving of the Fifth Street in that city as part of the Pacific Highway was demurred at on the same ground. It was pointed out that it was really a road used by the greater part of the tourists and was not used by the city alone. Reeve Matheson, of Esquimalt, felt that if the tourist trade was as important as was represented the City of New Westminster should not hesitate at keeping up the road.

It was pointed out that as a result of this work not being done there had been several deaths in the city and that this was really a move in the interests of avoiding danger to life. On motion of Ald. Woodward it was referred to the executive to take such action as it deemed wise.

Hospital Defined

The City of New Westminster had a resolution adopted by the convention setting out that private hospitals carried on purely as a business venture shall not be free from taxation. To overcome a difficulty complained of in the Royal City, where a mental hospital was conducted in opposition to the Provincial institution, and avoided paying taxes, it was proposed that the definition of hospital should be as follows:

"Hospital means an institution founded for the reception and treatment of persons diseased in body and in which they are treated either at their own expense or by charity, in whole or in part, which institution is in receipt of aid from public moneys appropriated for that purpose."

A recommendation from the same city was adopted calling for investigation into the fire insurance rates in eastern provinces, as compared with those in B.C., with the object of securing redress from what was claimed to be excessive rates charged there.

Recommendation Approved

Kelowna, suffering from the present rate under the Hospital Act, had a recommendation approved of looking to the altering in that act of the time of residence under which a municipality should be held liable for an indigent patient's hospital bill. A patient should, under the amendment, be resident three months in a place instead of one month before that municipality should be held liable for the hospital bill.

Signers of petitions to councils, if the resolution of Coquitlam approved of by the convention is adopted by the legislature, will have to set forward full details including the property owned by him when he signs.

Higher Motor Licences

A request from Surrey for legislation to allow the increasing of licence fees for motor buses, etc., was referred to the executive for consideration.

Amendments Adopted

A series of amendments suggested to the Land Registry Act and to the legislation covering building permits, all of them dealing with the subdividing of real estate and to prevent overcrowding came from West Vancouver. These were adopted.

Point Grey submitted a plan for adjusting and exchanging of boundaries and lands in order to benefit any area setting out the procedure under the approval of the Surveyor-General. The rezoning scheme, it was set out, could be blocked by any number more than fifteen per cent of the owners of land affected. This matter was referred to the executive and the solicitor.

Love, of Elizabethtown, is said by police to have attempted to poison her one-month-old baby by giving it arsenate of lead and afterward to have endeavored to take some of the poison herself. Ballots Must Be Produced

Order Made by Court in Connection With North Vancouver Election Petition

The petitioners against the return of Mr. J. M. Bryan, Liberal member, declared elected for North Vancouver in the legislature, are to be allowed the opportunity to examine ballots, stubs, etc., now in possession of the Provincial Secretary. This order for access to the documents was made by Mr. Justice Gregory in Supreme Court Chambers yesterday morning.

The contention of the petitioners in this case is that the absentee ballots were tampered with before the count and affidavits covering a variety of charges have been filed against the return of Mr. Bryan. Further and better particulars in support of the allegations were made known by the Lordship yesterday, but five days' time was allowed by him for the filing of the answer to these by the other side.

In view of this the application for the fixing of the date of trial stands over until after the time allowed for the filing of the answer. An application will then be in order for the fixing of a date.

Mr. Oscar Bass appeared for Messrs. Lennie & Clark, representing the petitioners against the return of the member. Mr. J. W. deB. Farria, K.C., appeared for the returning officer, and Mr. Douglas Armour, K.C., for Mr. Bryan.

Councils Want to Select Hospitals

Attempt Is Made to Amend Act so That Indigents Shall Go to Designated Institutions

The Union of British Columbia Municipalities would like to have the Hospital Act of the Province amended so that a municipality may designate the hospital to which the indigent patients from that district may be sent other than in cases of emergency. The following added section to the Act was approved by the Union in convention yesterday morning:

"Where any indigent person applies for admission or admission is applied for on his or her behalf to any hospital receiving aid under this Act, it shall be the duty of such hospital to ascertain forthwith and prior to such admission, except in cases of emergency or special agreement between the municipalities concerned, that the said patient has applied to the hospital named by resolution or by-law, if any, of the Council of the municipality responsible for the cost and treatment and maintenance of such person, as the hospital in which the indigent patients of the said last mentioned municipality shall receive treatment, and except in the case of emergency or special agreement as aforesaid, the hospital so named by such resolution or by-law, if any, shall, unless it has in writing under the hands of its mayor or secretary, signified its inability for any cause to admit the person who applies for admission, or for whom admission is applied for as aforesaid, be the only one entitled to recover charges for such treatment and maintenance from such municipality."

The resolution favoring this policy came from the district of North Vancouver. It was explained on behalf of this municipality that the district had a well equipped hospital. It was running behind at the rate of about $2,000 a year. It was asked that power be given to designate where indigent patients should receive treatment.

The absence of such a provision, it was pointed out, allowed medical men to send indigent cases from North Vancouver to city hospitals. This made the burden a double one upon North Vancouver.

This was not to apply to emergency cases. The resolution carried.

Union Asks Power To Exempt Land for Water Purposes

With Victoria representatives voting in favor of the resolution, the Union of B.C. Municipalities, in convention here, adopted a resolution favoring the giving of power to a municipal council by a three-fifths vote of all the members to exempt from taxation either in whole or in part any lands within the limits of such municipality which have been or are hereafter acquired and are owned and held by any other municipality for water purposes, but which are not actually in use for such purposes.

The resolution came down from the city of North Vancouver. The district of North Vancouver strenuously opposed the move, backed up by Reeve Macneil, of Saanich.

The latter was early on his feet in opposition to the resolution. He cited the case of Elk Lake and the city of Victoria. He said there was a dangerous joker in the resolution.

The question brought from Alderman Marchant the view that the trend of legislation was in the direction of allowing a municipality to do anything within its power. It was so in Germany and in Great Britain. Legislation should rather say what should not be done rather than what should be done.

The representatives of the district of North Vancouver held that this move was prompted by selfishness. The city of North Vancouver could at any time secure the election in the district of a council favorable to the city.

POLITICAL PROSPECTS

Sir John Willison has given some interesting reasons why he thinks there is a strong possibility of the defeat of the Liberal Government at Ottawa in the coming election. That defeat, if it comes, he says, will be because the country demands a revision of the tariff, and particularly some action to meet the prohibitory tariff of the United States. It will be because there is a common feeling that the Government's immigration policies have been timid, uncertain and comparatively unproductive. It will be because, also, taxes and super-taxes upon income and sales taxes on business are eating up all reserves of capital, checking enterprise and producing unemployment. Another reason he assigns is that the huge burden of deficits and capital expenditures on the National Railways have become intolerable, and, finally, because the country has come to believe that a Liberal Government at the mercy of the Progressives cannot give such constructive policies as the times demand.

Sir John expresses the opinion that month by month feeling is running more strongly against the administration of Mr. Mackenzie King. He alludes to the movement in Quebec towards the Conservatives, to the certainty that Ontario and British Columbia will go strongly against the Government, to the losses which Mr. Mackenzie King will sustain in the Maritime Provinces and to the possibility that the Liberals and Progressives in the Prairies will tend to destroy each other's prospects in three-cornered contests. There can be no question but that the movement of public opinion is against the Government and that movement is chiefly based on a desire to try if a change will bring about prosperity. Those who understand the implications of the tariff on the economic welfare of the country entertain no cause for any apprehension if, and when, the Conservatives are returned to power.

"STOOL PIGEONS"

In dealing with the matter of the employment of "stool pigeons" by the Provincial Government, the Union of B.C. Municipalities might have gone even farther than it did. What it asks is that where, within municipal limits, the Attorney-General's Department has reason to believe that there are infringers of the Liquor Control Act, that department, or the Liquor Board which under it, should notify such municipalities so that it can deal with the offenders. The present system is for the Attorney-General's Department to take the matter in its own hands, send in its "stool pigeons," and then present a bill of costs, and it were, to the municipalities by subtracting certain moneys from those due to municipalities under the Liquor Control Act.

The Union would have done well to go on record emphatically against the employment of "stool pigeons" at all. Their introduction into the administrative end of law enforcement in this Province is a slur on the courses of justice. Their creation was the conception of a petty mind. Those "stool pigeons," by virtue of the fact that they violate the law, are themselves within the pale of the operations of justice, although by the connivance of authority they escape prosecution. An immoral standard has been set up on the false assumption that morality can thus be encouraged, and the municipal authorities of British Columbia would have done well, once for all, to have come to a moral conclusion about a matter which affects their administration of the law so intimately. As it is, they want to be notified before "stool pigeons" are employed.

AUSTRALIA'S EXAMPLE

The Australian Government has just recommended to the Commonwealth Parliament a new tariff the primary object of which is to protect Australian industries from too severe competition. The main industries affected by the changes proposed are woolen textiles, the ready-made clothing trade and the engineering trade. Australia has protected her woolen industry for a long time and during recent years there has been a large increase in the number of woolen mills established in the country. In the 1921 tariff revision the duties upon foreign woolen piece goods were increased from 35 per cent to 45 per cent, thus increasing the preference on British wools from 5 per cent to 15 per cent. The Australian woolen manufacturers have found the competition of the cheaper British cloths too severe. The new tariff rates propose a general increase on woolen piece goods to 35 per cent on British and 50 per cent on foreign. Woolen and silk yarns are also subjected to increased duties.

In the ready-made clothing trade there is a substantial increase in the degree of protection afforded to the Australian manufacturer. The Australian engineering trade, too, receives increased protection in a considerable number of items. The most important of these are locomotive and other engines, structural steel and electrical and mining machinery. In general the increase in rates is from 27½ per cent (British) and 40 per cent (foreign) to about 40 per cent (British) and about 55 per cent (foreign). It is noted that in 1924 the United States supplied to Australia about 28 per cent of the engineering goods affected by the new duties and Great Britain supplied 52 per cent. The British manufacturer as well as the American manufacturer will now have higher tariff walls to surmount. There is one case in which a fresh duty is to be levied to encourage the establishment of new industries in Australia. The new schedule levies a duty of 27½ per cent on British screws and increases the present 10 per cent duty on foreign screws to 40 per cent.

Australia's experience obviously is that a greater measure of protection must be afforded to Australian manufacturers. It is the only safe and sound policy for a country that is struggling in these days of intense competition. The new Australian tariff will undoubtedly increase the prosperity of the Commonwealth. In what the Australian Government is doing there is a lesson for Canada and it is a lesson which this country has an immediate opportunity of absorbing in view of the election to be held next month in which the tariff is the main issue.

BRITAIN'S NATIONAL DEBT

The position of Britain's National Debt on April 1 last is shown in detail in a White Paper recently issued. On that date the total deadweight debt was £7,646,371,788, and of this £6,524,771,914 was internal and £1,121,599,874 external. It is shown that in connection with the internal figure there is included £48,523,735 of Funding Loan and Victory Bonds tendered in payment of Death Duties and held by the National Debt Commissioners until paid off or drawn. During the year ending March 31 last the external debt shows a decrease of £4,213,465. The highest figure of the debt was reached on April 1, 1919, and since that date the reduction has been reaching £243,252,783. Britain has been paying off her foreign debt during the last six years at the rate of £40,000,000 per annum. The internal debt shows a decrease in the year 1924-1925 of £30,038,100.

Ever since Premier Mackenzie King started his present election tour in the East he seems to have been trying to explain away his assertion that the fundamental principles of his party are the same as those of the Free Trade Progressives.

Mr. Mackenzie King is candid enough in having told the country that he has already taken a step in Senate reform by appointing some nine good and trusty Liberals to the Upper Chamber who will register his decisions. He wants a Senate that will be politically subservient to the majority in the House of Commons, but it must be a Liberal Senate and there must be a Liberal Government in power. Mr. King's type of argument is puerile, and, in reality, since Quebec said, nay, to his Senate reform policy, he does not know what he wants.

Mr. Manson in his speech to the delegates to the Union of B.C. Municipalities said that his belief is that a Government that sets for itself an absolute adherence to public good will not live. Since the motto of his Government is to stay in power Mr. Manson cannot believe that good men are a public good, nor perhaps does he believe in the advice of Phaedrus—"Interdixit, ne cum maleficio usum bonus consociet ullius rei."

In 1914 there were only 1,711,339 motor vehicles registered in the United States. By 1919 the number had increased to 7,565,446, and by 1924 this figure had more than doubled and reached a total of 17,591,981. This year, owing to increased production, it is anticipated that the 20,000,000 mark will be reached. Last year the total production of passenger cars and commercial vehicles was 3,617,600, worth at wholesale prices $3,168,588,146.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Almost every part of Victoria is beautiful, and all parts of Victoria are interesting. The old Songhees Indian Reserve is not, strictly speaking, particularly beautiful, but it is particularly interesting—interesting because of what it has been, more interesting as it is, most interesting because of what it is going to be.

The Old Reserve is a historical ground. No one knows the beginning of the history of that part of Victoria. There were no written records in the days when the first batch of emigrants arrived from Asia, spread out the land on the southern section of Vancouver Island, and decided that the place now known as the Old Songhees Reserve was a most desirable place of residence. We are assuming that our Coast Indians, who are as different mentally and physically from real Indians as it is possible for them to be, migrated from Asia and established themselves in this part of America. Whatever their origin, the Songhees became a powerful tribe and they displayed sound judgment in their selection of a permanent place of residence.

Consequently, the Old Reserve is very interesting because of its historical associations. If the rock on which we sat on the Reserve in the golden sunshine of an Autumn afternoon could have spoken, what a tale it would have unfolded of marriages and giving in marriage, of feasting and merry makings, of births and deaths, of tribal wars and massacres, of weird rites and sacrifices to grotesque gods, and of countless other things peculiar to conditions of savagery.

The remnant of the once powerful Songhees tribe has gone to another place and the Reserve has entered upon the second stage of its history, presuming that the point which became the reserve of the Songhees had no history previous to the time of its occupation by a nomadic tribe from some part of Asia.

The old council chamber which stood near the centre of the plot has disappeared. The ancient shacks, which their owners doubtless considered wondrous architectural structures, are also gone. The tanks of an oil company stand out conspicuously near the point which guards the entrance to Victoria harbor. An oil station has been established right on the waterfront at the point. Numberless small watercraft puff their way every day to that station for the purpose of filling their "bunkers" with fuel oil. The oil station, like all the other oil stations that have been established in Victoria, are architecturally pleasing to the eye. The station at the point is set within a plot of greenward, like an oasis in a wilderness. The sound of a steam whistle is heard, and a great ship, her decks black with passengers, sweeps through the narrow channel and majestically proceeds on her way to the docks of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. That ship is larger and more powerfully engined than the first of the Pacific liners of the same company. She enters Victoria's once despised harbor as easily and departs from it with as little inconvenience as the pigmy heaver, the pioneer steamer of the Pacific Ocean, did in the days when she was one of the wonders of the modern world to the Indians who dwelt upon the Songhees Reserve. Within the space of an hour many craft of all sizes pass through that wafer gateway.

The Old Reserve is also the terminal point of two of the greatest railway transportation systems in the world. Manufactories have established themselves there, and other industrial establishments are following their example. Such are the present circumstances of the former home of a vanishing tribe of Indians. The time is surely coming, and that time is not very far distant, when the old Songhees Reserve will be a "hive of industry," when its foreshore and all the foreshores contiguous to it will be lined with wharves, and ships of all sizes will be arriving from and departing to all parts of the world by day and by night. The spot which was once a social problem and an aesthetic eyesore, is destined to become the industrial heart of a great city, whose boundaries we shall not at present undertake to define, because we know that if we did undertake to define them we should be accused of being as extravagant in imagination as Alderman Todd.

The Turk is in trouble again. The Turk is hardly ever free from trouble. If he is not in trouble with his neighbors he is encountering internal troubles. This has been the condition of the Turk ever since the time when we first began to take an interest in international affairs.

Russia was the ancient enemy of Turkey. When the internal condition of Russia became menacing, attention was diverted from that condition by an attack upon the Turks, usually under the pretext of saving the "suffering Armenians" from persecution. In those days Great Britain was always friendly to Turkey, and more than once saved her from subjugation and dismemberment. Now Russia is too busy forging a world revolution to bother about the affairs of Turkey. But if the Turk has no real trouble he will borrow trouble. He is trying to find an excuse for a quarrel with Great

City Manager Legislation To Be Sought

Union of B. C. Municipalities Will Ask Government to Make it Possible to Adopt Scheme

Plebiscites Are Stipulated

Legislation to enable municipalities to adopt the city manager form of government, if approved by ratepayers at plebiscites, will be sought from the Government by the Union of B.C. Municipalities, according to a decision reached at yesterday afternoon's session of the annual convention.

There were but few dissentient voices when the question was put to a vote.

Ald. Bridgman, of North Vancouver, moved that the Union ask the Legislature to enact permissive legislation, but to stipulate in the act that a plebiscite be held in each municipality at the time of the annual elections to decide whether the plan should be adopted by that municipality.

Ald. Marchant wished the convention to be given details of the city manager plan.

Reeve Maclean, of Burnaby, said that under the scheme municipal councils would continue to be elected by the people as at present, and that legal authority would continue to be vested in them. The city manager's powers would be administrative, he said.

The question, as amplified by Mr. R. Baird, Inspector of Municipalities, should be permitted to delegate any of their executive functions to one of their officials. It was possible to do so at the present time, but only by an indirect method, and the actions of the officials concerned had to be subsequently sanctioned by councils.

"A city manager would be a manager to the extent of the powers delegated to him by the council," declared Inspector Baird. "He would not necessarily manage all municipal affairs."

Splendid Success Greeted Exhibition

Big Crowd Streams Through Courts of Service Following Bishop's Opening

Crowds gathered in such numbers for the opening day of the World Service Exhibition yesterday that not a shadow of doubt survives as to the splendid success which the organizers will be able to record when the affair closes on Saturday night.

Bishop Schofield officiated at the formal opening, remarking that his good wishes were foretold by the presence of such a large number of patrons.

Immediately the crowd dispersed to make a tour of the numerous Courts of Service, which occupy the upstairs rooms; and the bazaar, which has transformed the austere lines of the gymnasium into a blaze of color. It is in the bazaar that the biggest financial results are to be sought, and there was literally a "roaring business" in progress for certain periods in the afternoon and evening, when the crowds were greatest.

"This Ain't War, It's a Regatta," Say Rain-Soaked Mimic Warriors

Defending Troops in British Sham Battle Expect to Keep Heads Above Water and Win Battle With Reds—Two Planes of Attacking Force Wrecked

SOMEWHERE IN WILTSHIRE, Sept. 23.—All day the attacking Red army, under Lieutenant-General Sir Alexander Godley, and the Blue defenders of London, under Lieutenant-General Sir Philip Chetwode, manoeuvred for position in the mimic war in which nearly 50,000 British soldiers are engaged. The final clash is expected at dawn.

The attacking forces are reported to have scored a notable tactical success in the northwest of their territory, so much so that one observer remarked that it might shorten the war by ten or twelve hours, which would be good news for the soaked Tommies, as the rain continued intermittently throughout the day, and one was heard to say "This ain't war, it's a regatta."

The Blues are developing a strong offensive movement to the east, and assert that they will be able to keep their heads above water.

Two air crashes occurred today, caused by a couple of low-flying enemy planes struck the ground. They were wrecked, but no one was hurt.

Cities Want Better Title

Succession Duty Liens as Now in Force Attacked by Municipalities

The vexed question of succession duty liens as now defined in the Act was the subject of a resolution by the Union of B. C. Municipalities yesterday forenoon. In so far as these liens have been applied as an encumbrance on lands sold by municipalities for non-payment of taxes the request is to be made to the Government to have the present disabilities removed.

This matter has given a tremendous amount of trouble to various municipalities, the City of Victoria being one of the sufferers by it. The resolution which was adopted without dissent yesterday originated with the Vancouver Council.

It is set out that the succession duties, being held to be a first charge upon the lands applying to the estates of all persons who have died after 1894, take priority over taxes due to the city. This prevents the issuing of a title, nullifies the resolution, states the purpose and effects of the act giving the municipalities the rights and powers to sell lands for delinquent taxes.

Railway Will Aid Migration To Dominion

B.C. Coast fleet, Captain J. W. Troop, in command of the service, went over to Vancouver to return with the president, and was able to show her speed, the vessel making 22.7 knots an hour across the Gulf.

Mr. Beatty is accompanied by the following directors of the company: Sir Herbert Holt, Mr. F. W. Molson and Mr. R. H. McMaster, in addition to Mr. F. T. Hughes, Director of Canadian Pacific Steamships, and Mr. J. W. Hobbs, Director of Imperial Bank.

Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of Western lines, has been

The tramp steamers would, of course, be quick to take advantage of a situation of that kind. Of course, it is not assured that the increase, amounting to three cents a ton or more, will be maintained. The tramps are free traders as far as rates are concerned, and the rates fluctuate from time to time, according to the amount of cargo space available.

"There is no shipping conference, I believe, on the Panama route, as practically all traffic is handled by tramps. On the Atlantic last year tramp steamers were paid higher rates than were charged by the liners, notwithstanding that the liners' rates are fixed by a conference or alleged combine."

Connection With Coast

With reference to the railway's action on the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia situation, Mr. Beatty said that the proposal of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways to the Alberta Government respecting the operation of the E.D. & B.C. line were now receiving the consideration of the Provincial Government, and, so far as he was advised, no decision had yet been made.

Mr. Beatty also discussed the forthcoming grain movement and said that he expected the transportation East and West would continue as heretofore, with probably an increasing movement to the Pacific Coast from Alberta and Western Saskatchewan if the facilities and tonnage at the former point were sufficient to meet the demands of the trade.

"The introduction," said he, "of heavier locomotives and larger cars has, of course, expedited the movement, and the railways are well equipped to take care of a much larger crop than the present one."

Immigration

The Government and the two railway companies are to stimulate immigration by a new agreement. The railway companies, through their Colonization Departments, have been given a free hand to select, transport and distribute all colonists who can be properly assimilated in Canada.

With the further privileges of leasing the necessary permits for their admission, subject to the requirements of the statute and to the mental and physical fitness of the applicants.

The practical result of such co-operation should mean a greatly increased flow of immigration.

"As the result of this agreement," said Mr. Beatty, "we may be able to view of the favorable harvest conditions existing in the West, to look forward to a renewal of the movement of those who are urgently needed in solving the serious problems we are now faced with in Canada."

Effect on Canada

Since the beginning of the Great war by ten or twelve hours, which would be good news for the soaked Tommies, as the rain continued intermittently throughout the day, and one was heard to say "This ain't war, it's a regatta."

SIR HERBERT HOLT

The Blues are developing a strong offensive movement to the east, and assert that they will be able to keep their heads above water.

Two air crashes occurred today, caused by a couple of low-flying enemy planes struck the ground. They were wrecked, but no one was hurt.

"The need of new population is imperative, both East and West," explained Mr. Beatty. The Manitoba Free Press recently made the amusing, but no doubt true, statement that after 100 years of settlement, the whole population of Canada does not equal the increase in population in the United States in fifteen years.

Canadians Returning

"Our achievements since the war have been disappointing. During the four years ending December 31, 1924, 389,550 people entered Canada, while it is estimated 326,000 Canadians left the country. The only bright spot is that from April 1 to November 30, last year, official figures indicate that 24,488 Canadians returned from the United States and this flow has continued.

Much Land Available

"There are approximately 25,000,000 acres of vacant land suitable for cultivation in the three Prairie Provinces, situated within fifteen miles of existing railways," said Mr. Beatty. "If these were subdivided into 320-acre farms it would mean 78,125 new farms for immediate cultivation. If in each half section there were four colonists, the total would be 125,000. Government statistics estimate the value of each family of four in the purchase of goods to be $1,562.95 net per annum, so the value of this settlement to the country would be $112,500,000 per annum."

Mr. Beatty pointed out that there was nothing that would hold Canadians in Canada and invite them to move so much as the opportunity to acquire property, particularly among the producers.

He declared there was one institution in Canada which has not lost confidence, which had faith in the future of the Dominion, which believed that the one and only salvation of this country was to remain an undivided whole with its present Empire ties, and that institution was the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Railway Situation

His views on the general railway were expressed at Toronto. Mr. Beatty said in part:

"Canada's railway situation is a vital concern to all the people in the country." In service, in rates and in transportation efficiency the companies occupy very creditable positions. As recently as the year 1923, the great majority of the people seemed to desire competition of an intensive and extensive character. In the year 1925 some portions of the country urged strongly, both within and without Parliament, that there should be co-operation. There is a general election pending and this would not be the time nor the place for me to express any personal views on the subject even if it were possible for me to do so without being regarded as a prejudiced observer and an advocate of the system of administration with which I am associated.

But there is another and more important reason why I do not think any good purpose would be served by a discussion of the matter at this stage.

The two major systems of the country are competing, and, strongly competing, but the Canadian Pacific has not increased its services in any material respect in five years and has not duplicated any facility of its competitors.

If there is a charge of waste to be made it cannot be laid at our doors. While for any such duplication the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has not been responsible, as the largest taxpayer in Canada, it unfortunately has to share in footing the bill. We propose, however, by every legitimate and fair means within our power to endeavor to retain the traffic we have spent forty years in developing, and we propose further by judicious and carefully planned expansions to assist in the development of new territory. The executives of the Canadian Pacific understand the financial and commercial advantage of harmony and the two great Canadian railways get along in as great harmony as is possible for two corporations in competition with each other and whose systems of administration are fundamentally different due to the difference in ownership. You may rest assured that co-operation, as far as co-operation is possible in these circumstances, will be followed. No one appreciates more accurately than the railways themselves the limited extent by which economies can be effected through so-called co-operation without loss of traffic and injury to either of the systems. If two houses are to be maintained, even though there are not customers sufficient to fill both you may take it for granted that the resulting duplication of facilities involves some waste.

The Cost of Transportation

"One of the most important questions confronting the Canadian people today is that relating to the cost of transportation services, and admitting if you care to admit, that there does exist efficiency and that economies will be put in force wherever possible when the traffic is not sufficient to maintain separate services, there still remains the question which is of the most vital importance to both the National system and ourselves and that is the maintenance of adequate rates to enable these companies to function properly and also risk new capital in Canadian development."

The executive will consist of the following: Aid. Woodward, Victoria; Aid. Bridgman, North Vancouver; City Comptroller Pilkington, Vancouver; Reeve Macnicol, Nanaimo; Mayor Harrison, Nanaimo; Reeve Kirkpatrick, Penikese; Reeve Poppy, Ingleton; and Reeve Paton, Point Grey. Vernon was selected as next year's convention centre.

MR. F. W. MOLSON

War Canada had had to limp along on its reserve man power and until the man power was pumped in again on the old scale, activities must be curtailed and progress slow. This condition was not confined to Western Canada. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick needed additional population and had good farm land available, and their people believed they had been sidetracked by the booming of the West as a location for settlers.

"The need of new population is imperative, both East and West," explained Mr. Beatty. The Manitoba Free Press recently made the amusing, but no doubt true, statement that after 100 years of settlement, the whole population of Canada does not equal the increase in population in the United States in fifteen years.

tion in Canada, but it was on that issue that he went to the country in 1921 and was defeated. The Conservatives, after the verdict of the people had been given, having the smallest group in the House of Commons in place of the majority it had had before. Mr. Meighen, during the time he was in power in 1920 and 1921, had an opportunity to bring into effect those policies he is advocating now.

He Was Not Worried
Hon. Dr. King devoted much of his speech to an explanation of the railway rates situation. The Liberal Premier, at a meeting of Liberals held in Victoria last year, previous to the mass meeting he addressed in the morning, had recorded himself in favor of equalization of freight rates, the speaker said, and it was through his consistent belief in equalization of freight rates that relief had been forthcoming to British Columbia and the Prairie Provinces. The speaker reviewed the action taken leading up to the present situation, in the order of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, and touched on the appeal from that order which had been lodged. He was not worried by the objection registered, as it was the right of anybody under British law to appeal if such action was based on substantial grounds. The Dominion Government had recorded its self against discrimination in the rate structure against British Columbia and Western Canada.

Exodus Explained
The speaker explained the exodus of young Canadians to the United States during the Liberal regime as due to the quota law of that country. The United States, since the war, had enjoyed a measure of prosperity and had enacted a law limiting the number of all countries in the world except Canada. Consequently, he said, Canadians had taken advantage of the privilege extended to them by the line to partake of the prosperity existing in the country to the south. During 1923, he said, 266,000 Canadians had migrated to the United States, but this number had fallen in 1924 to 125,000. The decrease of 75,000 proved, he thought, that the exodus was not due to the quota law of the United States, but that the exodus was growing.

Magistrate's Decision Against Counsel Upheld
VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Deputy Police Magistrate Findlay was upheld in his refusal to allow private counsel to conduct prosecution of Mrs. Louise Tappero, alias Berutti, on a charge of perjury in the city police court, by Mr. Justice D. Cayley last Monday, when the justice requested Magistrate Findlay to appear before him, was refused after lengthy argument.

New Goitre Remedy

Great interest attaches to reports of a remarkable method for treating goitres recently demonstrated at the W. T. B. Laboratory, 2083 Y. M. C. A. Bldg., Battle Creek, Mich. It is used by the patient herself in her own home and it is said that the largest and most hideous goitres begin to recede almost in a day. They gradually get smaller until in three or four weeks they are often gone entirely. The treatment is perfectly safe for anyone to use and many believe it will prove the long sought specific for all goitres. A little book issued by the laboratory explains the method fully and will be mailed free for the asking to anyone interested.

of Vancouver, will give an address. Mr. David Leeming will preside. The meeting is free to the public.

Small Child Hurt—About 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon two small children were playing on the sidewalk at the intersection of Gorge Road with Garbally Road, when one ran out to the roadway right under the wheels of a passing truck driven by Mr. J. J. Dunsen. One of the rear wheels passed over the child's legs as the driver made an effort to avert. Mr. J. P. Pearce was passing and he picked up the child and immediately carried it into a house, where medical assistance was called. The child, about two years and six months of age, was reported to have sustained fractures of both legs and was removed to hospital for treatment. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, live at 414 Dunedin Street.

Organist Thanked—The choir of Emmanuel Baptist Church, was entertained at the parlour, 1338 Pandora Avenue, by Mrs. H. Knox, a few evenings ago, when twenty-five members spent a very pleasant social evening. The choir leader, Mr. J. H. King, in a few words expressed the feelings of the choir leader and the members in thanking Miss Scowcroft for her efficient services and wished her, on their behalf, success in whatever sphere her musical talents might be used. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess and a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close with a vote of thanks to Mrs. Knox.

national debt, and, at the same time, decrease taxation.

Responsibility Denied
Hon. Dr. King denied that the Liberal Government was responsible for the railway situation in Canada. Sir Henry Thornton had been appointed to consolidate the roads, and while deficits still continued, operating surpluses were produced.

The speaker attacked Mr. Meighen on his statement that since the advent of the Liberal Government more than 2,000 business failures had occurred in Canada. Dr. King declared that most of that number were directly traceable to the war. "We have greater prosperity in Canada today than ever before," he said. "There is great development taking place in the province of Quebec and huge paper industries are being established there. This year the production in Canada of newspaper will be the largest of any country in the world."

Expansion Sought
Hon. Dr. King criticized Hon. Dr. Toimie, Conservative member for Victoria in the last Dominion Legislature, in regard to the new trade treaty with Australia. Under present conditions Canada sold Australia $10 worth of goods for every $1 worth it bought. The new treaty was drawn to expand the markets of both countries, and he believed that it would be mutually satisfactory.

The Liberals had been accused of bringing about a condition that favored the cry of annexation, Dr. King continued, but he pointed out that the Mackenzie King Government was the only Administration that had ever held out a practical hand of friendship to Great Britain and had given that country preferential trade.

Nothing Wrong, Says Premier
Premier Oliver, who arrived late at the dinner owing to his attendance at a banquet of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, spoke briefly on the freight rates situation and the tariff question. Nothing was wrong with the industrial life of Canada, he declared. He referred to the report revealed by Mr. Meighen's Halifax address, and condemned not only the report but Mr. Meighen's unqualified denial of the substance contained therein.

Mr. T. Roath, Liberal candidate in the Nanaimo riding, moved a vote of thanks to Hon. Dr. King. The motion was seconded by Mr. Stuart Henderson and carried amid applause.
Hon. Dr. J. D. Maclean, Provincial Minister of Finance, declared there was only one issue in the forthcoming election so far as British Columbia and the Prairie Provinces were concerned, and that issue was freight rates, and there never had been an election so important to the people of the West as the one which would be decided on October 20. He believed that the Canadian Pacific Railway was as much a national road as the West as the one which would be decided on October 20. Municipalities Ask Gas Tax Revenue Be Expended on Roads

MARKING of all revenue from the gasoline tax for road purposes will be urged upon the Government by the Union of B.C. This was a decision of the convention which ended yesterday.

Work Beginning On Voting Lists In Canada Today

Registrars to Sit Daily Until September 30—If in Doubt of Your Neighbor, Complain About Him

The preparation of lists for urban voters for the pending general election commences throughout Canada today. In all cities and towns with a population of 5,000 or more and in certain other places with a dense or transient population urban registrars will commence to sit at 9 o'clock this morning, to prepare preliminary lists which will be subject to revision later by county and district judges or persons appointed by them for that purpose.

The registrars' sittings will continue daily except Sunday, until September 30, from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m. with two intervals of one hour each for meals, and any qualified voter may attend in person to apply and have his name placed on the list. Voters who are ill or away from home may be registered by a relative or employer.

Provincial Lists Good
Where there are provincial lists, the names of persons which appear on them will be transferred automatically by the urban registrars to the Dominion list. The registrars are without discretion in this respect and are obliged to transfer names even though they know that the persons referred to are dead, removed or otherwise disqualified. There is, however, a very simple way of having such names removed.

All that is necessary is for some one qualified to do so in the same registration district to appear before the registrar and make before him an affidavit (which the registrar will prepare), stating his ground for believing that the name of the person in question should not appear on the list.

Voter Must Appear
Upon such an affidavit being made the registrar will send to the voter objected to a registered notice calling upon him to attend before the revising officer about ten days to two weeks later. The voter by whom the objection is made may not further concern himself with the matter, since if the person objected to does not attend and convince the revising officer that he is qualified as a voter, the name will be removed from the list without any further action on the part of the objector.

The preparation of lists of voters for rural areas will not be generally under way for another week or ten days.

Two-Year Term Finds Favor

Convention Approves Suggestion to Give Mayors and Reeves Longer Lease of Office

The Union of B.C. Municipalities, to the evident surprise of Alderman Marchant, of this city, endorsed the suggestion to have mayors and Reeves elected for two-year terms. When introduced by Alderman Marchant, the proposal was made to cover only mayors and that in cities of at least 10,000 inhabitants. Alderman Marchant referred to the fact that he had been "turned down" before on this subject, but he prepared for it again. But his expectations were foiled when the resolution was made to cover all mayors and Reeves and was carried.

The City of Victoria's resolution to enable municipalities to invest sinking funds in debentures of Canadian municipalities and Canadian and reeves districts met with a cold response. Alderman Woodward considered that a country should have faith in its own securities. He believed the city would accept a change in the proposal by which the Inspector of Municipalities should approve of the debentures to be invested in.

Tinkering Dangerous

This was met by Reeve McLean, who wanted the province to go slow in this matter. He did not want a return to the old system by which municipalities "ran wild" in investing their sinking funds. He said it was dangerous to allow any tinkering with sinking funds.

Other speakers held that the Government bonds offered plenty of good investments without resort to municipal bonds. There was the danger, it was pointed out, that municipalities might exchange investments at par when in reality only a much lower sum would be available for the issues.

Resolutions Approved

Courtenay proposed that the right to allow assessments to value poles, wires and other equipment of telephone and electric companies at their actual value instead of at a fixed rate as set out now was the subject of some discussion. It was considered this matter was a troublesome question to handle, and it was finally decided to refer it to the executive.

Oak Bay had a series of resolutions which were endorsed by the resolutions committee, and in turn approved by the convention. These dealt with the granting of powers to the council to alter the rates charged as compared with other parts of the municipality in the case of water frontage and sewer frontage. Provision was made in connection with zoning for prescribing areas within the municipality upon which buildings could be erected of a private house, hotel, apartment house, boarding house, church or school should be erected.

Experiments Show Value of Selection

Much Data for Horticulturists and Farmers in Bulletin on Sidney Station

"No part of the Dominion is better suited to horticulture than is Vancouver Island. The mildness of the climate makes it possible to grow many things that cannot be grown elsewhere in Canada. If horticulture should fall here the whole farm structure would crumble, for the holdings are small and not well suited to general agriculture," says Mr. B. M. Straight, superintendent, in his bulletin on the work of the Sidney Experimental Farm in 1924. Just issued by the Department of Agriculture, Dominion Experimental Farms.

Within the bulletin is contained data on a number of subjects which must be of the greatest value to the gardener and small farmer of this Island. Mr. Straight's notes on strawberry cultivation are of particular interest. The tests made at the farm with the Himalayan berry have been watched with considerable interest by all growers in this neighborhood, and Mr. Straight finds it is outstandingly the heaviest yielding blackberry known.

In view of the fact that so many of the certified seed potato growers of the Victoria district are concentrating on Sir Walter Raleigh, tests with an assorted variety of the best known kinds of potato enable the superintendent to assert that a much heavier yield per acre was obtained with seven or eight varieties than with Raleigh. Netted Gem, Wee McGregor, Early Rose, Early St. George, Green Mountain, Burbank, Up-to-Date, and Irish Cobbler are all placed ahead in the list. In connection with the tests on sprouted versus unsprouted seed Mr. Straight has come to the conclusion that sprouted seed has considerable advantage in accelerating the growth of potatoes.

In connection with the flower tests, it is stated attempts will be made during the next year to prove conclusively whether cross pollination by natural means is possible in the sweet pea, and if it is possible, what agencies are employed to bring it about.

As mangoes are particularly well suited for this district, Mr. Straight's announcement that the station is endeavoring to develop superior varieties of desirable commercial types will be welcomed.

Many other points are discussed in the bulletin.

Prince and Princess Wed Amid Medieval Splendor

Festivities From Morn to Night Mark Marriage Day of Philip of Hesse and Mafalda of Italy—Civil Ceremony Followed by Church Service

RACCONIGI, Italy, Sept. 23.—In a setting of mediæval splendor, Prince and Princess Mafalda, twenty-two-year-old daughter of the King and Queen of Italy, was married today to Prince Philip, twenty-nine-year-old son of the German House of Hesse. Philip is a nephew of the former Kaiser of Germany and a second cousin of King George V of England. After festivities lasting from morning to night, the couple left for Germany on their honeymoon.

It was unusual also in that it joined a child of one of the chief Catholic families of Europe to a Protestant house renowned for its early espousal of the reformation of Martin Luther. A special dispensation from the Pope was necessary for the marriage by Catholic rites.

The Bride

King Victor Emmanuel, attired in the uniform of a Grand Marshal of Italy, with Princess Mafalda on his arm, headed the royal procession into the central hall of the castle. The bride wore a white gown with a veil of precious lace. The bridal train, four yards long, was borne by two pages. The Princess wore a magnificent necklace, the gift of her brother, Crown Prince Humbert. She carried a bouquet of orange blossoms. The cortege walked with measured steps into the billiard hall, where the King and the two Queens stood on one side of a table covered with red velvet in the centre of the room.

Premier Performs Civil Ceremony

Signor Tittoni, acting as official of "civil status," read the Italian marriage laws, and Mafalda and Philip gave their promises to live up to them. Then Premier Tittoni, in his capacity as crown notary, performed the civil ceremony.

The wedding party then proceeded to the chapel, where the ceremony was conducted with flowers and wreaths. The walls were covered with red, gold and black damasks and tapestries. An atmosphere of mystery and romance was created by lights from fourteenth century candelabra suspended from the walls, and the whole scene was a picture of mediæval splendor. The bride and groom were seated on a throne of red velvet, and the ceremony was conducted with the utmost solemnity.

Mafalda and Philip knelt before the altar and the King and the two Queens stood on either side of the altar.

net, "The Bright Island"; J. Conrad, "Laughing Anne," and "One Day More"; John Masfiah, "Easter and Berenice"; J. H. Shaw, "Saint Joan," and W. W. Gibson, "Kestrel Edge and Other Plays." It might here be stated that although several of these plays have been produced and have become familiar to readers for some time, they have only just appeared in book form.

The travel section has a fairly long list of new additions, including "Shadows of the Gloom East," by I. Omenowski, author of "Heaven, Men and Gods," "To Lhasa in Disguise," by W. McQueen; "Adventure of Wranget Island," by Stefansson; and H. G. James' "Brazil After a Century of Independence."

In biography there is Lord Birkenhead's new book, "Contemporary Personalities"; Mrs. Anquetil's "Palaces and Persons"; J. Buchanan's "Frances and Roderick; Grenfell"; A. C. F. Haggard's "Victor Hugo, His Work and Love," and Sir S. Lee's excellent and most interesting "Life of King Edward VII."

Mr. Philip Gibbs has written "Ten Years After," and the "Diary of Lord Bertie of Thame," edited by Gordon-Lennox is another new book. The question of the great Pacific is discussed in "The Problem of the Pacific," by C. B. Fletcher, and is a most readable and interesting book. This brief summary covers only the non-fiction; a list of new fiction will appear later.

Beauty Shop Is Great Success

Musical Comedy Which Gyros Will Present Is Hit of Season—Tickets in Demand

Keen interest is being taken by Victorians in the forthcoming production here of the musical comedy, "The Beauty Shop," under the auspices of the Victoria Gyro Club, this being exemplified in the enormous demand which has been experienced for reservations for this show, which will be played at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 1, 2 and 3.

Rehearsals for "The Beauty Shop," which have been held in the Chamber of Commerce every evening during the past fortnight, have been largely attended, and those taking part in the show are rendering faithful service in order that each performance of the production will be every sense an unqualified success.

In every ally that "The Beauty Shop" has been presented capacity houses have witnessed the production and have acclaimed it one of the leading musical comedies of the season. It is a show full of pep, sparkling with fine music, catchy choruses and many comical situations, and it is bound to go over the top in Victoria in no uncertain manner.

College Professors Will Probe Situation of National Football

Dr. W. W. Campbell Urges Addition of Representatives of Student Bodies on Investigating Body—Source of Evils Is in High Salaries Paid Officials, Is View

Special to The Colonist

By the North American Newspaper Alliance (Copyright, 1925)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The American Association of University Professors has appointed a committee to study and report upon the general subject of football abuses in American colleges. It was announced today in a telegraphed statement from Dr. W. W. Campbell, President of the University of California.

Dr. Campbell suggests, however, that "confidence in the findings of this committee would probably be more general if representatives of leading student athletic organizations were included in its membership."

Commenting on the general football situation, Dr. Campbell declares that the "mistaken view" of officials of the game is responsible for many of the criticisms that have arisen.

"I am completely in accord with the point of view expressed by President Apple, of Franklin and Marshall College, in the series of articles which he has written for the North American 'Newspaper Alliance,'" declares Dr. Campbell.

Does Not Believe Abuses Grave

"But notwithstanding my deep and direct interest, I could not go far in matching his illustrative cases of abuse. Though I favor publicity on the subject, if conducted under the auspices of competent authority, I do not believe that an investigation of football finances would uncover grave abuses."

"Even where the administration of athletics by university officials and by student athletic organizations is clean and above-board, the mistaken view of officials and fans, such as a few alumni and a few commercial organizations, makes it appear to high school boys and to many others that colleges are more interested in athletics than in scholarship. This view of officials and fans is a difficult condition to deal with."

"However, an investigation might establish that some universities deliberately and officially offer scholarships and other inducements as a reward for athletic ability, especially football ability. That practice, and other similar practices, if existent, could undoubtedly be uncovered and should be made public."

Other western colleges received here today from college presidents who have read the football articles written by Dr. Apple included the following from Dr. Cloyd H. Marvin, of the University of Arizona:

At Philadelphia (lat)—R. H. E.
St. Louis..... 2 7 1
Philadelphia..... 6 7 1

Batteries—Gaston, Stauffer, Danforth, Davis and Dixon; Baumgartner, Walberg and Cochran.

At Philadelphia (2nd)—R. H. E.
St. Louis..... 3 5 0
Philadelphia..... 7 10 3

Batteries—Wingard, Danforth, Falk and Hargrave; Gray and Perkins.

Davis Cup Men Pass Through

Australian Stars Homebound After Contests for National and World Honors

Two of the three Davis Cup Australian challenge tennis team left for home last evening on board the motorship Aorangi, in the personnel of Gerald L. Patterson and John B. Hawkes. The third member, James O. Anderson, did not go through with the party.

While they have played wonderful tennis, they did not carry the honors to the level reached in former years by the Australian challengers.

Patterson and Anderson lost the right of Australia to challenge for the Davis Cup finals by losing to France, represented by Jean Borotra and Rene Lacoste in the semi-finals at Forest Hills, N.Y., early this month.

At Brookline, Mass., in the last week of August, R. Norris Williams and Vincent Richards won the 1925 national doubles championship of America by defeating Patterson and Hawkes. In company with Miss Kathleen McKane, England, Hawkes, however, at the same meeting, won the 1925 national mixed doubles title.

The American tour of the Australian Davis Cup team will entail a loss of $7,500 to the Australian Tennis Association, the two players state. The Canadian series in Montreal, however, was profitable. Mr. Patterson was accompanied by his wife.

Danny Edwards To Box Mascot At Arena Soon

Bantam Champion Vic Foley Agrees to Meet Winner of Scrap—Good Supporting Card for Friday, Oct. 2

Billy Davies, Manager of the Victoria Boxing Association, announces that the next professional show will be held on Friday evening, October 2, at the Arena, when Billy Mascot, of Portland, Ore., will swap uppers and hooks with Danny Edwards, the famous colored boxer, of Oakland, California. The contest will be over the ten-round route and it is expected that it will prove every bit an inter-club affair.

Foley vs. Mascot bout held last Friday evening.

Edwards, who appeared in Victoria a couple of months ago, when he K.O'd Al Davies, the local crack, made a big impression on the local fans who have been anxiously awaiting his appearance again in this city.

Mascot made a host of friends here last Friday, when he beat the local adrian champion for seven equal rounds, and according to many of the fans would have weathered the storm in the seventh round had his second not been too eager to throw in the towel. No one in the Arena was any more surprised than Mascot when the towel came into the ring and afterwards he claimed that his second acted too hastily.

Mascot was in poor shape. It is true that his hand was in poor condition and that he was suffering from the body punches that the Vancouver boy had landed, and the following day he had a sick stomach which he attributed to insufficient training as much as Foley's wallop.

The Portland boy, however, was convinced that with a couple of months' hard training, which would give him Foley's super condition, he would be able to slow the Vancouver boy within the limit. For the last contest Mascot had only a couple of weeks to prepare himself, and as he had been inactive for a few months prior he was not in the shape he would have liked to have been in.

Jack Allen has informed Match-maker Davies that he will be willing to allow Foley to meet the winner of Edwards vs. Mascot encounter during the middle of October, and as he had been inactive for a few months prior he was not in the shape he would have liked to have been in.

Arrangements have been practically made for the semi-weekly bout of six rounds between Tommy Fielding, the local feather, who has been stopping all corners, and Andy Teifer, the pride of the Navy, who is credited with being a very shifty and experienced ringman. The naval boxer appeared in a bout staged under the auspices of the United Services about a year ago, and he demonstrated that he was one of the shiftest boys that has ever appeared in a local ring.

Several other bouts in which Tacon and Lewis, local favorites, will take part are being arranged, and it is expected that the bouts will be equal, if not better than the successful show staged last Friday.

Vancouver Bike Fiend Beats Charlie Staples for Hand-some Cup and B.C. Championship by Almost Minute in Contest Against Time at Beacon Hill Park—Albert Pellett Takes Schoolboys' Event

Huge Crowd Watches Crack B.C. Bicycle Racers Perform at Hill

Jim Davies, crack rider of Vancouver, added another laurel to his already lengthy list yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park, when he won the fifteen-mile bicycle race against time from Charlie Staples, of this city, for the handsome Moody Cup and the championship of British Columbia for that distance. Davies beat Staples by almost a minute, his time being thirty-seven minutes, fifty and two-fifths seconds, against Staples' thirty-eight minutes, fifty and one-fifth seconds.

A crowd estimated at between 3,000 and 4,000 watched the race.

There were no mistakes made in yesterday's race. The two riders were sent off at an interval of one minute and twenty seconds between them, and from then on the time of each lap was taken and checked by the five timekeepers. The arrangements for policing the course worked out excellently, and not a single interference was reported. Chief Fry and his officers had all the roads leading to the course well guarded, and the crowd at the starting and finishing points was kept well outside of the course.

The spectators were informed every five laps as to the progress of the riders, and the officials of the race are to be congratulated on the manner in which they handled it.

Davies Keeps Steady Pace

Davies' riding was beautiful to watch. He maintained a steady pace practically the whole way, and he put on a sprint to make his last lap in the best time of the fifteen.

He took every opportunity to save ground, and on the turns kept his wheel close to the edge of the road. Staples' riding was jerky, and in some laps his time differed greatly. On the turns he failed to keep the inner edge of the track, which necessitated his covering a great deal more ground.

On the final stretch he went almost at the outside edge of the track, and he was congratulated on his performance.

Yesterday's race was void of the general excitement which bicycle races generally carry. The riders were sent off at an interval so as to prevent any jockeying or attempt to lay behind and let the other make the pace. The arrangement was chosen by the officials as the best would be no room for criticism, and it worked out perfectly.

First Lap Close

Only one second differed between the riders in the first lap. Davies took 2:25, while Staples took 2:26. On the second time around Davies gained ten seconds on the local boy. On the third lap Davies led by two seconds, but in the fourth dropped back two more seconds. On the fifth lap Davies had a seventeen-second lead. At the end of the tenth circuit Davies had increased his lead to twenty-eight seconds, and in the next five gradually increased it to fifty-nine and four-fifths seconds, which was the final margin.

Albert Pellett and Ray Grant had a great race to decide the winner of the schoolboys' event. There were slight entries for this event, and three of the riders received handicaps. On the home stretch Pellett and Grant were tied to a hair, but the former put on a great sprint in the last ten yards to win by a wheel. Tom Coventry took third prize, about five lengths ahead of the fourth rider.

Dr. Moody Presents Prizes

Following the race, Dr. Glendon Moody, of Vancouver, the donor of the cup and the promoter of the race, presented the prizes to the winners. He congratulated the riders on their excellent showing and thanked the public for their support. He referred to the excellent manner in which the course had been policed and to the able way the event had been handled by the Victoria Cycle Club.

He thought that Victoria should have a regular bicycle race track, and referred to the success which races thirty years ago had gained. "In Staples and Davies," the doctor stated, "British Columbia has two big riders of whom it should be proud. They are good clean sports, and take their ups and downs like sports should." He hoped the day would not be far away when these two riders would be back East showing their ability.

The Time of Laps

The times of the two riders for the fifteen laps are as follows:

Davies..... First..... 2:25
Staples..... Second..... 2:26

4:49..... Third..... 4:54
7:19..... Fourth..... 7:27

10:48 4-5..... Fifth..... 10:54 2-5

Foley and King Ready for Big Mill on Friday

Bantam Champion Vic to Defend Title on Mainland—Battle Creates Huge Interest in Northwest

Vancouver Fans on Edge

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—With the fifteen-round championship bout between Vic Foley and Vic King, but a few days off, both fighters will ease up in their training the next couple of days. The unusual amount of interest being shown in their bout Friday indicates that the scrap will break all previous records for attendance in the Northwest.

Foley's prompt action in giving King a return bout within three weeks of their mill, has caused a flood of favorable comment. King's showing on August 28 was impressive. He was beaten in the earlier rounds, yet weathered the storm and was fighting effectively when the unfortunate low blow brought the hostilities to a close in the eighth round. But the fact that the Canadian champion comes right back and picks up the gauntlet, agreeing to battle over the same route, is good sportsmanship.

Foley evidently figures that he can beat King over the long route, at any rate, he has played ball with the public in agreeing to a return bout.

A strong supporting card has been arranged in addition to the Foley and King bout. In one of the bouts, Bud Davies, a husky little Vancouver game cock, is matched to meet Tuffy Lundel, of Tacoma.

How A. B. Copp Declines

MONCTON, N.B., Sept. 23.—Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, declined nomination at the Liberal convention held for the County of Westmorland here yesterday afternoon. Private interests and long service in public life were reasons given by Mr. Copp for refusing to accept the nomination.

Mediocre Golf Features Second Round Matches at Pros' Tourney

Successful Competitors Score Victories by Decided Edge—Walter Hagen Eliminates Mike Brady, 7 and 6—Dutra, of Aberdeen, Wash., Wins Easily

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Mediocre golf was displayed in several of the second round matches of the professional golf championship at Olympia Fields today, but at least one contest brought out spectacular shooting. Tom Kerrigan, of New York, set a record of thirty-two for the first nine of No. 3 course, and with a total of sixty-nine on that links, defeated Dan Williams, of New York, although the latter scored a seventy-one, which was second best score of the day.

The defending champion, Walter Hagen, obtained the easiest victory of the day, as his opponent, Mike Brady, New York, took forty on the nine of No. 4 course in the morning, and forty-one on the first half of No. 3, allowing Hagen to win, seven and six. Both players shot par thirty-five on the second nine of No. 4, but aside from that neither played consistent championship golf. Hagen putted poorly at times, and Brady found many traps and other difficulties.

Hagen Faces New Yorker Today
Hagen, as a result of his victory today, will clash tomorrow in the third round with Leo Diegel, of New York, who had to score par over No. 3 course in the afternoon to win from Bobby Cruikshank, of Oklahoma City, two and one.

The closest match of the day was between John Farrell, of New York, and Ray Derr, of Cincinnati. They both were only one above par on the first nine and were square at the turn. Derr went five above par on the second nine on No. 4, and was two down at noon, but he evened affairs on the first nine of No. 3, where he was only one above par with thirty-six. They held this position to the end of the thirty-sixth hole by scoring thirty-six each, but Farrell grabbed the match on the thirty-seventh hole by bagging a birdie four.

This hard-won victory entitled Farrell to play tomorrow with Harry Cooper, of Dallas, who won today from Jack Burke, of Houston, two and one.

Tommy Armour, of New York, and Mortie Dutra, of Aberdeen, Washington, had comparatively easy matches, each winning six and five. Armour defeated John Golden, of New York, Missourian Hevies Too Late Dutra's opponent, Ed Dudley, of Joplin, Mo., after playing fairly well on the first quarter, took forty-three for the second half of No. 4, but he was down, and his thirty-eight for the outward on No. 3 cost him two more holes. The Missourian braced on the fourth hole played on the home stretch, but he revived too late.

The only two Chicago contenders, Billy Mehrtens, formerly Western open champion, and Al Espinosa, played evenly all day until Espinosa finally got tangled with a clump of trees on the thirty-sixth hole and lost one down.

Great Northern Wins Calgary Handicap; Pays $21.50 Nose

CALGARY, Sept. 23.—Great Northern, four-year-old bay gelding by Buies, out of Racy, who had not been in the money since June, won the inaugural Handicap, feature event of the opening day's racing at the Fall meeting of the Chilkoot Jockey Club this afternoon.

The result was a blow to players of form, as the mutuelists paid $21.50 straight for a $2 ticket on the winner.

Injured Harvester Succumbs to Wounds

Vancouver Man, Pinned Under Car With Broken Back, Writes Farewell Note

HANNA, Alta., Sept. 23.—David Hutchison, a resident of Vancouver, who had come to this district to assist in harvest operations, is dead here as a result of injuries received when his car overturned while on his way to the farm of John Potter in Sherbrook district.

When near the Hanna School his car overturned, presumably some of the passengers were killed. He was pinned underneath and remained there for nearly an hour before help arrived.

After the car turned over the engine continued running, and Hutchison, fearing an outbreak of fire might destroy all evidence as to who was lying underneath, crawled out of the wreckage and wrote a note in the following message in a notebook and threw it some distance from the automobile:

"Back to bust. Do not know if I will last long. Sorry, can't help it now. Love to my wife and children. I am in hopes I will see them again."

When help arrived Hutchison was brought to the hospital at Hanna, where it was found his back was broken.

B. C. Men Indicted As Rum Smugglers

Crew and Others Connected With Principio Charged in California

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Twenty persons are accused of violating the prohibition law in connection with the operating of the alleged rum-runner Principio last year between Vancouver and the California coast. Those named in secret indictments made public today were as follows:

Joe Parente, prominent in local sporting circles; J. S. Madden, mayor of San Francisco, a suburb; Henry Heff, reputed millionaire distiller, of Vancouver; Thomas Pay, said to be Heff's local representative; George McAdams, John Doe Falcon, captain and A. C. McAdams, first mate of the Principio; A. Castiglioni, whose name the vessel is said to have been registered; Charles Johnson, Lee Davis, Jens J. Nielsen, John Doe Newcomb, Orville Davis and Frank Bouliat, members of the crew; Al Hamilton, Hans Stittmeyer, Armando Bonaccori, Louis Linehard and Gus Wranks, alleged employees of Parente and Madden.

The Principio, it is charged, obtained clearance from Vancouver for a Mexican port, but anchored off Point Reyes, California, where the cargo of liquor was taken off in small boats. The hearing of the accused was set for October 2.

Myriads of Men, From Dawn to Dark, Gather Bundles of Grain

Here and There Hum of Machinery and Bursts From Gas Proclaim on the Prairies the Visible Source of Canada's Mighty River of Wheat

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—Binders are whirling through the length and breadth of the Western Prairie land as miles of waving grain resolve themselves into golden bundles thrown along a stubble-burdened ground. Myriads of men garnered from every quarter of the far-flung Dominion, gather ceaselessly from dawn to dusk the richly-laden bundles into compact stacks of potential wealth.

Here and there the hum of busy machinery and sharp explosive bursts from laboring gas proclaim the first visible source of that mighty river of wheat, the economic life stream of Canada, as it flows in an increasing and unending volume to strategic centers throughout the world from whence in millions of rivulets it goes to feed multitudes of hungry mouths. By what miracle of man does this life-giving stream pass from the great space of its birth to the distant centers?

Early in the year, before the prospective harvest is more than a carpet of green blades, the servants of the two great railway companies are engaged in overhauling and repairing old equipment and securing new to replace the worn-out. Tracks and roadbed are thoroughly gone over and keyed up to the highest efficiency, in order that there may be no weak link in the system.

Services Make Reports
All through the summer the intelligence services of these two companies are almost daily reporting to their respective headquarters upon the crop situation in the many different areas of the Western Provinces. They are the heralds in the gigantic drama of the West. Sometimes they herald the grim, silent tragedies of blighting heat and smiting hail, sometimes extensive and devastating, but finally they announce the first whirr of the binders and then in a twinkling orders reach into every division of the railway systems, and the mobilization of their motive power is under way. Gradually there is a concentration of locomotives and grain cars at strategic points on the Western lines. Here they are ready for immediate and rapid distribution wherever they are needed.

Where Will Flow
Three hundred and seventy-five million bushels are the recent estimates for the 1925 crop, and all this, except some 80,000,000 or 90,000,000 bushels, must find its way to the outer world through the railways on the West and East. During the next eight weeks wheat will flow with great rapidity from the farmers' wagons into the local elevators. Each station has its quota of these elevators, varying in number from one to ten, according to the surrounding acreage and its productivity. From their bins grain cars are filled daily, and long trainloads behind panting locomotives find their way to terminal elevators. Here the grain is loaded upon lake and ocean carriers and gradually finds its way to all parts of the world.

This seemingly commonplace task of distributing Canada's wheat to the world is enveloped in intricate problems. These difficulties call for the most careful organization and closest co-operation if the grain is to move steadily and smoothly to its destination. Even the weather affects the flow, for it may be that a storm on the lake will hold up a considerable number of the carriers, and cause congestion in the elevators, resulting in a loss of time and money to the railways. It spurs many of the organizations engaged in the work of distributing the crop, that seldom if ever, is the steady dog halted.

Man Suspended After Escape of Six Prisoners Accused of Peddling Liquor

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—David Morgan, suspended King County jailer, was charged in an information filed in Superior Court here today with being a bootlegger. Morgan was suspended last week when six prisoners escaped from his jail September 15. Bail was set at $2,000.

The information was filed when J. C. Charles Morgan, a grocer, declared he had purchased liquor from Jailer Morgan, and that Jailer Morgan had given him the liquor for favors granted to them while in custody. The two are not related.

The grocer formerly delivered groceries to prisoners in the jail, but this privilege was suspended after the jail break.

King County Sheriff Starwich declared that he had heard that $25,000 was available to free T. S. Johnson and James Burns, two of the escaped outlaws, suspected of complicity in a $42,000 bank robbery at Nainaimo, B.C., December 12.

"Someone could have made a lot of money," he said, "but I don't know that anyone did."

THIS TIRE

Retains its Cushion to the Last Mile

Most all-rubber truck tires go out of service through tread wear. The rubber wears out. In the last few thousand miles the cushioning of these tires grows rapidly less, until, for a considerable period before they finally do go out of service, they are little, if any, better than steel tires.

Goodyear, too, could build an all-rubber Truck Tire like this—a tire that would wear evenly down to the steel, thus giving the impression of having delivered the utmost value.

But Goodyear prefers to build a tire that will cushion the truck throughout its entire life—a tire that will have a considerable thickness of rubber after long mileage—a tire that, until the very last mile of its service, will cushion your truck, your load and your driver.

The special tread stock in Goodyear all-rubber Truck Tires wears very, very slowly.

After thousands of miles these sturdy giants remain in service. And, best of all, they are still giving the truck the protection that other tires can give only during the early part of their life. If you seek the longest average mileage truck tires have ever given plus effective cushioning throughout the entire life of the tires, let a Goodyear Truck Tire Service Station apply All-Weather Tread Heavy Duty Cushions. They are the only tires having both these valuable features.

League Adopts Nippon Proposal Of Conciliation

Council Instructed to Examine Carefully All Conciliatory Suggestions For Future Examination

GENEVA, Sept. 23.—In line with Viscount Ishii's recent plea before the Assembly of the League of Nations, that more emphasis be laid upon the development of a system of conciliation for the settlement of international conflicts, the judicial committee of the assembly adopted a resolution in the framing of which the Japanese delegation took a leading role.

The resolution requests the League council to examine carefully all proposals, declarations and suggestions relating to a system for the settlement of disputes that the next assembly will have a complete report on which to take definite action.

This means that systems of conciliation and compulsory arbitration will be thoroughly studied to determine whether, as the Danes proposed, some international conciliation commission should be instituted, or, as the Swedes suggested, there should emerge a collective convention of compulsory arbitration which would supplement the compulsory arbitration statute of the world court of justice.

Premier Oliver Rushes To Defence of Hon. Mr. Manson's Stool Pigeons

terials for them to exercise their brains and brawn upon. It was rather because Canadian children had been given a wrong conception of life.

As to costs, it had probably been often asked why he himself had been remedying the present situation. It was because his hearers had not sent to the Legislature men who thought the same as he did.

He agreed that the present system of distributing educational costs was an inequitable one. On the island he could point to districts that charged fifteen mills and to districts that charged five mills on the dollar for educational costs. The inequalities were glaring.

"But if you want conditions changed and school taxation put on a more equitable basis," said the Premier, "you must educate the people to demand that thing."

Mr. Pooley is Premier. It did not appeal to his sense of justice, he went on, that the owner of land should be paying taxes on a certain valuation, while the merchant owning thousands of dollars worth of merchandise should be paying nothing.

"It is in your power to create a demand for reform along the lines I have indicated," Premier Oliver finished.

Premier Oliver had smelled politics from afar, said Mr. R. H. Pooley, Leader of the Opposition, in replying to the toast to "His Majesty's Loyal Opposition." It was a non-political gathering but the Premier had evidently felt impelled to proceed, nevertheless.

He himself had felt that the leader of the orchestra had had the right idea in playing "Good-bye Forever," as the Premier had left the banquet hall.

As Ald. Clearhouse had pointed out, the function of the Opposition was to keep a watchful eye on the activities of the administration. This function, he felt confident in saying, the present Opposition had succeeded in performing.

For one thing, it had always placed its members most experienced in municipal affairs on the municipal committee of the House.

Other Speakers. Mr. Pooley touched briefly on the bad times that had followed the war. It had been suggested by Americans, he said, that the Pacific Northwest was about to experience another boom. It had been said that the boom would come sooner than expected. If it did come, British Columbia was bound to feel its effects. And if it did, he would counsel the municipalities not to launch themselves on programs of extravagant expenditures as they had done in the past.

Proposing the toast to "His Majesty's Government" Mr. Reginald Hayward, M.P., expressed the hope that the work of the Union would continue to be as successful as it had been in the past. He did not really think that the measures asked for by the Union were refused by the Government for political reasons. The Union's requests, he pointed out, went before the municipal committee of the House and the personnel and judgment of this committee represented that of a cross-section of public opinion. He wished the Government, he said humbly, every good fortune but that of a long term in office.

They Think a Lot. Mr. Alexander Lockie, retiring president of the Union, declared that the stand of that organization was that municipalities should receive some warning before stool pigeons were thrust upon them. Inasmuch as municipalities had to foot the bills for the activities of the stool pigeons, this was only a reasonable request.

The Union, as a union, said Mr. Lockie, was not condemning the use of stool pigeons. "Although," he added, "we have our own opinions."

The Union had met with resistance from the Government in the first years of its existence on the score that it was possible that the municipalities were "playing politics" in advancing this or that desire. Fortunately, the Government had abandoned this attitude in the last two or three years.

Reeve Gladby, of New Westminster, newly elected president of the Union, declared that the Union had only justice and equity to ask from the Provincial Government. He wanted to suggest, if a boom did come, the Provincial Government as well as the municipal councils should exercise economy.

Whole Halibut Industry Backs Pact With U.S.

Splendid Results Expected From Fish Treaty by Federal Director of Service—Work So Far Satisfies

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—"The whole halibut industry is behind the international treaty which provides a close season of three months in each year for a term of three years on the halibut banks of the Pacific Coast. There is not a dissenting voice, and I look for splendid results from the experiment," said W. A. Found, of Ottawa, director of the fisheries service of Canada, tonight.

Mr. Found returned today from Seattle, where he attended the first meeting of the International Fisheries Commission, under whose aegis the halibut treaty was negotiated and put into effect.

"It is a little early yet to determine the effect of the close season, which was in effect from November 14 to February 15, and will be continued in the same period for two more years at least."

"The work done so far has given the most careful consideration at our conference in Seattle, and was endorsed without reservation," Mr. Found continued.

"The close seasons will be continued for the two years more provided for in the treaty, and our investigations during that period will determine whether it should be extended for a further term."

Did Murdered Man Belong to City?

Inquiry Received From Phoenix, Arizona, Following Discovery of Pocketbook

Who is Walter A. Scott? That problem has been presented to the city police to solve by an inquiry from the police of Phoenix, Arizona. Three weeks ago Scott was murdered, and now has come to light a notebook, with the words, "Walter A. Scott, Victoria, B.C.," among the man's effects.

Up to a late hour yesterday no information had reached the police as to the identity of the slain man, neither are particulars of the murder known here.

The same complete absence of data about Scott is marked at Phoenix, where nothing is known of the man apparently, and neither relatives nor friends have been discovered.

Pictures of bullets fired from a revolver now are being taken by a special speed camera.

Standing of School Board Is Questioned

Provincial Education Department Called Upon to Adjudicate in North Cowichan Issue

DUNCAN, Sept. 23.—Has North Cowichan a legally constituted school board, or has it not? This question has just been raised by a prominent citizen of the district affected, who has appealed to the Education Department at Victoria for an official ruling on the point.

Early in the year the North Cowichan School trustees resigned in a body, following the refusal of the ratepayers to vote in favor of a money bill to provide additional school accommodation at Chemainus, and the refusal of the North Cowichan Council to provide $10,000 ordinary revenue for the construction of a temporary school building at that place.

The School Act did not provide any authority for holding a by-election under such circumstances and the council found itself faced by a difficult situation. The Education Department then came to the rescue by appointing Mr. C. H. Price, of Westholme who, up to that time, had been secretary of the board, an official trustee, with all the powers of a school board at his command.

Disqualification Alleged

Later, the Council of Public Instruction authorized the North Cowichan Council to hold another election, when three Westholme citizens were induced to offer themselves as candidates, and were declared elected by acclamation. It now develops that one of the trustees so elected is not a resident of the North Cowichan School District at all, but lives within the limits of the Consolidated school area. This, it is said, constitutes an undoubted disqualification under the provisions of the School Act.

Developments Expected

The legal standing of the board is seriously questioned, and the claim is made that Mr. Price is still the official trustee. The matter is further complicated by the fact that the board which is at present acting, has induced the council, out of current revenue, to construct an addition to the Chemainus School at a cost of approximately $4,000.

More interesting developments are expected in the near future.

Social Evening, Concert Is Held at Keating

KEATING, Sept. 23.—A very enjoyable time was spent by all who attended the social evening and concert held under the auspices of the South Saanich Union Church Committee in the Town Hall, Monday evening. The decorations of the hall, which were also the work of the young people, were very pleasing. The concert party was composed of members of the choir of the First United Church of Victoria and their friends and some local talent, and a very interesting and varied programme was rendered.

The Rev. Mr. Lees asked that a standing vote of sympathy be extended to Mr. N. Gray and family for the loss of their son.

Young People's Club Of South Saanich Will Attend Rally

KEATING, Sept. 23.—The Young People's Club of the South Saanich Union Church held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, with the president, Mr. Amey, in the chair and a good attendance of members.

The treasurer's report was read by the secretary, Miss Gale. Announcement was made of the fact that the Rev. Mr. Lees had taken over the choir management and will hold a practice on Friday evening next.

Mr. Amey extended an invitation to the members to attend a rally of all the young people's clubs on the island, which will be held in the Metropolitan Church, Victoria, October 19. It was decided to attend the rally in place of holding the regular club meeting.

Miss MacNab reported she had arranged a debate for the next meeting, October 5, the theme of which will be: "Resolved, that antipathy is better than realization." With Miss Blanche Sherring and Mr. William McClure affirmative, and Miss Alma Heyer and Mr. Albert Hafer, negative. Mr. W. McClure conveyed the thanks of the church committee and the ladies' aid of the young people's club for the help given in decorating the church for the harvest festival. A table tennis tournament, which was commenced, will be carried on at the next meeting.

The rally day which was to have been held at the South Saanich Union Church Sunday, September 27, has been postponed to Sunday, October 10 on account of the former date being too near that of the harvest festival.

The harvesting of the apple crop has commenced throughout the district, the season being an exceptionally early one. Several of the farmers in the district are picking the second crop of strawberries, and some very fine fruit has been harvested.

Parent-Teacher Body Elects Its Officers

SIDNEY, Sept. 23.—The annual meeting of the Sidney Parent-Teacher Association was held in the school on Tuesday evening, with a good attendance. The president, Mr. F. McNaught, occupied the chair. The minutes of the last meeting and the financial report were read by Miss McNaught, the secretary-treasurer, and adopted. The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, Mr. J. Ramsay; president, Mr. F. McNaught; vice-president, Mr. J. McNaught; secretary-treasurer, Miss J. McNaught. The executive committee consisted of Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. J. Hanning, Miss Houldsworth, and Rev. Mr. Lees, together with the officers of the association.

It was decided that the Sunday School will compete for the cup donated by David Spencer in the sports held at the Saanich Fair. The chicken contest will come to a close in October. Four cash prizes and one other prize will be given in each of the two divisions in the contest.

At the conclusion of the business under discussion, Rev. Mr. Lees gave a most interesting address on "Our Young People, What is the Matter With Them?" which was much appreciated by all present. An amusing recitation was well rendered by Mr. N. Watts, after which the meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem.

Hundreds Attend Funeral of Victims

Affecting Tributes Paid Memory of Mrs. Hunter and Her Four Children

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—With hundreds in attendance and the caskets smothered with flowers from sympathizers from different points of the island, the bodies of the late Mrs. John Hunter and her four children, who met a tragic death last Sunday in a fire that destroyed their home in South Wellington, were conveyed to Nanaimo Cemetery, where interment took place at 5 p.m. Funeral services preceded at McAdie's Undertaking Parlors under the auspices of Court Willow, A.O.F., of which Mr. Hunter was a member.

The chapel was filled to overflowing and crowds lined the streets outside. Services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Warr, assisted by the Rev. Hugh Nixon. Songs were loud and continuous and before the last verse of "Nearer, My God to Thee" was sung, two women swooned and others grew faint. The singing ceased with the first verse of the hymn and it was necessary to abbreviate the solemn proceedings.

All day long beautiful wreaths kept pouring in the chapel, sent by friends and many bearing the inscription, "stranger." The funeral was one of the largest and saddest held here for many years.

Chinchillas From Vancouver Island Win at Washington

At the Western Washington fair in Puyallup, September 21 to 27, the following prizes have been won by Vancouver Island exhibitors:

Six to nine months old buck, second prize, P. Barlow, Sidney.

Four to six months old buck, first prize, Totem Rabbitry, Brentwood Bay.

Four to six months old doe, first prize, Totem Rabbitry, Brentwood Bay.

Only five Vancouver Island rabbits were entered and they all took prizes, which shows the quality of the Chinchillas raised on Vancouver Island.

SIDNEY, Sept. 23.—The kitchen shower for the North Saanich Social Club, which was held at the Dominion Experimental Station, proved very successful. Many useful donations were received, while the proceeds from the candy and ice cream stalls, and games of ladder golf and treasuries, were used for the benefit of the club. The champion's set was won by Miss Alma Gorton. The housewifery competition was won by Miss Adelaide Toomer. Sports for the children were a pleasant feature of the afternoon. Daily refreshments were served free of charge by the ladies of the club, the committee in charge being Mrs. Reading, convener, and Mesdames Chancellor, Toomer, and Clifford. W. Clark acted as secretary. Mr. E. M. Straith, the superintendent of the Experimental Station, kindly granted the club permission to use the grounds for the afternoon.

The Dancers Show At Columbia Today

Cast of Stars Featured in William Fox Film at Local Cinema House

William Fox personally selected the cast which appears in his latest production, "The Dancers," adapted from the famous stage play of the same name, and directed by Emmett Flynn, which comes to the Columbia Theatre today.

The first selection of the cast of "The Dancers" was George O'Brien, the youthful giant who made his cinematic debut with two great successes appearing on Broadway simultaneously, "The Iron Horse" and "The Man Who Came Back."

The next selection was Alma Rubens, the beautiful lady of the screen, whose lot it has been to grace the silver sheet as the idealization of frailty, the gorgeous, striking woman of the upper social strata and who is remembered as the stately "Hermione" in the William Fox version of "Gervais and Craven's Lady."

In "The Dancers" she plays the vivacious, spirited girl of the dancer hall, a role which is calculated to bring out all the depth and fire of Miss Rubens' Latin personality. Mr. Fox proves that Miss Rubens is a very versatile actress of great emotional possibilities.

PLAYHOUSE Nazimova, Star of the THEATRE

Edwin Carewe production of "My Son" for First National pictures, now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, moved to Monterey, California, where scenes were taken for this picture. At San Luis Obispo, halfway point between Hollywood and Monterey, the great Russian actress stopped overnight. In the morning at breakfast the waitress had a motion picture fan magazine in her hand all the time she was serving the star, and kept up a running fire of chatter, which did not enhance the joy of Nazimova's breakfast.

CAPITOL An entire railroad crew, including officials of the C.P.R., associated with the Southern Pacific Railroad, were attached to the location unit of the William Fox West Coast Studio, Hollywood, at the Pyramid Lake Indian Reservation, Nevada, where the important scenes for "The Iron Horse" were taken.

John Ford, "The Iron Horse" having for its theme the most monumental feat in the history of early engineering, it was required that in no respect should a detail of the railway building be incorrect. Embodying the rolling stock, which consisted of the old "C. P. Huntington" engine, two additional locomotives of the 1883 period, coaches, private cars, freight tenders and tools, track laying equipment, bridges, spikes, rails, ties and method employed at that time in forging ahead parallel iron lines, everything filmed for the story was absolutely correct.
